

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But when large companies control the airwaves, we get broadcasts that serve the interest of the owners and that is not democracy.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. The FCC needs to revoke the license of companies like Sinclair broadcasting as they are not using the free airwaves for unbiased news but only to serve their own interest. Thank you.
